Mr Kitchell from the committee to whom was referred the letter of the secretary of State, with the accompanying documents, reported,

That the statements exhibited contain only a statement of receipts and expenditures in the secretary's office, by which it is not possible for your committee to discover how much he may be a sufferer by the alteration that has taken place in the registers office—that by the provisions of the act relative to the Probate of Wills, granting letters of Administration and Guardianship, all the business done in the Register's office respecting Wills &c. is transferred to the Surrogates in the different counties—that it appears to your committee that the duties of the Register before passing that act consisted chiefly if not wholly in engrossing, recording and filing of wills, letters of administration, inventories and guardianships, &c. for all which services fees were affixed by law—which services being directed to be done by others, the fees of office to the register cease of course—But as those fees were deemed liberal for such services, it is presumed, that it is a diminution of the profits of the secretary's office.—Upon the whole, your committee are of opinion that some further provision to the secretary for the loss he sustains by taking the registering business out of his hands which were attached to that office when he accepted the appointment would be proper ; but the amount of such allowance your committee submit to the consideration of the house.

Mr Darby from the committee to whom was referred the memorial of Isaac Smith, Esq. late one of the justices of the supreme court, reported, That the memorialist states,

1. That when he entered into public service at the commencement of the American revolution, he relinquished a very valuable profession as a practitioner of physic.

2. That he received his salary for several years in continental and state money on which the depreciation was very considerable.

3. That after having served upwards of twenty-seven years, as one of the justices of the supreme court, he is "precipitated from that comfortable situation, at a time of life unsuitable to new avocations, and in very depressed circumstances."

And he concludes with appealing to the justice of the legislature for such reparation for his losses as the nature of the case may warrant.

On which your committee beg leave to observe, that however highly they estimate the sacrifices and services of judge Smith in the course of the American war, yet, taking into consideration that all the officers of the general and state governments, the officers and soldiers of the army, and the great body of citizens generally, suffered, more or less by the common occurrences of war and the depreciation of paper currency—that no expedient has been found practicable completely to equalize those burdens—that such an attempt at this day would undoubtedly proceed in uncertainty and terminate in confusion—and that judge Smith has enjoyed an honorable and profitable office in this state till he has arrived at a very advanced age—they are therefore unanimously of opinion that neither the principles of justice nor the interest of the state requires that judge Smith should receive any extraordinary allowance on account of former losses or services.

Which report was read and agreed to by the house.

Mr Condict from the committee to whom was referred the petition of sundry inhabitants of the county of Morris, praying for an alteration in the line of the Morris turnpike road, reported,

That the seventh section of the act incorporating said company, provides, that the directors shall within one year, after the passing of said act, cause a survey to be made of the line of said road between the stations therein mentioned, to be finally fixed and determined, so as not to be afterwards changed or altered.

Sufficient time and opportunity having thus been given the said company to view the ground attentively and lay out the road in the most judicious manner, the committee are unanimously of opinion, that although in the present instance an alteration might conduce to the interest both of the stockholders and proprietors of the lands, yet it would establish a precedent not only very troublesome to the house, but which might also hereafter be very injurious to those persons who may build houses and make other improvements on turnpike roads, on the plighted faith of the legislature, that those roads should be permanent.

Mr Scudder from the committee to whom was referred the petition of sundry inhabitants of the counties of Monmouth and Middlesex, praying for an alteration in the provision which makes it necessary that jurors should be unanimous in their verdict, Reported,

That although they are sensible difficulties often arise in the minds of jurors when compelled to yield their opinion to a large majority of their fellow jurors, yet believing as they do that the making up of verdicts being left to two thirds or three fourths of the persons composing the jury would be improper, as it often happens that a large majority of them on the first view of the subject on which they are to decide, form an imperfect opinion, and the minority have it in their power to delay the verdict until the subject under consideration is more fully matured and better understood, and the verdict made up more consistent with justice and equity; they are therefore unanimously of opinion that the prayer of the petitioners ought not to be granted.

Mr Stout from the committee to whom was referred the petition of Brockholst Livingston, executor of Sarah Alexander deceased, the widow of the late William Earl of Stirling, reported as follows :

That from the files in the treasurer's office of this state, it appears that on the 15th day of April 1767, William earl of Stirling executed a bond to Stephen Skinner, in his own name (who at that time was treasurer of the Colony) for £ 2605 : 18 : 8 payable on or before the 15 day of April then next following with interest at the rate of four per cent per annum ; which payment was secured by mortgage executed as aforesaid upon several tracts of land in the county of Hunterdon particularly described in the said mortgage—

That upon a paper enclosing the said bond and mortgage in the said office is the following memorandum, “ Mortgage from Ld Sterling to Mary Verplank dated October 7, 1765 for Lots No 87, 94, 95, 96, 97, 98, 99, 106, 107, 108, 117, 126. said to contain 2080 acres, principal and interest due Feb'y 21 1775, £ 2000—

Mortgage from Sterling to Stephen Skinner dated April 15, 1767 for the same land except No 117, consideration £ 2605.18.8—Judgement obtained against Sterling at the suit of Skinner and execution issued in the term of Nov'r 1772.

On the 21st Feb'y 1775 Isaac De Cow late Sheriff sold the land to Samuel Henry, John Brink and Richard Holcomb, subject to Verplancks mortgage, for £956.14.6—

On the 24 Sep'r 1779 Isaac DeCow conveyed the land to the several purchasers and they paid him £956.14.6, and then got possession of the premises.

The several purchasers have since paid off the said mortgage to Verplank and got a release."

That it also appears from the records of the Supreme Court of this state, that a suit was instituted upon the said bond and a judgment obtained in the term of Nov'r 1772, and that an execution was issued thereupon against the goods chattels lands and tenements of the said William earl of Stirling to the sheriff of the county of Hunterdon returnable in April term following—That the said execution was delivered to Isaac DeCow the then sheriff of the said county, who returned upon the same that he had levied upon several tracts of land in the county of Hunterdon, which from the said return appear to be the same tracts which are described in the mortgage aforesaid—

That your committee have not been able to obtain any other information of the subsequent proceedings upon the said execution than is contained in the memorandum inclosing the said bond and mortgage—

And your committee further report, that by a law passed the 31st day of May 1779 all the estate of the said William Earl of Stirling was vested in two trustees, John Mehelm and Richard Stevens, who were by the said law authorized and required to sell a sufficient portion thereof to pay off all his debts and after they had satisfied every demand to reconvey the residue to his Lordship—That in pursuance of their authority the trustees sold a considerable part of the estate, having previously advertised, conformably to the law, the time and place of sale; and on the 20 Dec'r 1779, notified to all persons who had any demands against Lord Stirling to present the same for payment within three months after the date of the said notification—

And your committee further report, that the said John Mehelm and Richard Stevens afterwards, to wit on the 18 day of December 1780, reported to the Legislature that "in pursuance of the directions of said act they had disposed of certain parts of said estate sufficient in their estimation to pay off the debts of the said William Earl of Stirling—that they then had in hand a large sum of money arising from such sale, and that there were no demands before them unsatisfied, and praying directions for their future government in the said business."

Your committee further report that on the twenty-second day of Nov'r 1780 Lord Stirling applied to the Assembly of this state to know whether they would liquidate his account of depreciation of pay; and that after various deliberations of both branches of the Legislature at different sessions it was resolved by the House on the 1 Nov'r 1781 and concurred in by Council on the 27 Dec'r 1781, "that Lord Stirling was authorized and entitled to receive the depreciation on his established pay agreeably to the same principles and regulations as had been adopted and established for the troops of the state in the service of the United States;" and that in pursuance of said resolution the certificate of which payment is now demanded for three fourths of the depreciation of his pay was issued to Lord Stirling on the 31 day of Dec'r 1781, payable in three years, with interest at six per cent from the 1st of August 1780.—The remaining fourth, amounting to £534.1.6 1-2 with interest amounting to £48.1.1 1-4 was paid in cash to Lord Stirling on the 1st Feb'y 1782 as appears by accounts in the office of the Treasurer of this state—

And your committee further report that before this said certificate became payable Lord Stirling died.—That a few months before his death he gave it to his wife Lady Stirling who some time in the year 1785 presented it for payment to James Mott the then Treasurer of this state—and that payment was refused by the said James Mott under the impression that the said bond might be set off against the certificate.

Under all the circumstances of the case your committee submit the following question to this House, Shall the prayer of the petitioner be granted? I

FRIDAY, March 7, 1806.

Nine o'clock.... The house met.

Mr Tiebout from the committee on that subject reported a bill entitled A supplement to an act relative to the laying out, vacating and altering of roads, passed 1st June 1799 ; which bill was read and ordered a second reading.

The committee appointed by the House relative to the allowance to be made certain commissioners for selling the lands belonging to the Indians, report,

That we are fully informed that the said commissioners have made sale of the lands at Brotherton, and have moved said Indians (about one hundred in number) to New-Stockbridge in the state of New-York, (distance about four hundred miles) and have settled them there agreeable to the first section of the law under which they acted, and to the entire satisfaction of the Indians as appears by certificates now filed in the Secretary's office of this state —

On the subject of the compensation to be allowed to said commissioners for their services we beg leave to observe—

1st. That it appears when the law was made the Legislature thought proper to appoint three commissioners to carry it into execution, two of those so appointed from the trouble and difficulty they saw would attend the undertaking declined accepting the appointment and the Governor appointed two of the present commissioners to supply their places—

2dly. That by the law the commissioners were restricted not to sell more than 100 acres in one lot, which in a tract of land containing 3000 acres situated in a district of country this was, occasioned them to have a number of sales to comply with the law, unless they had sold the land for any sum it might have brought at the first sale, but your committee are satisfied that the commissioners discharged this part of the trust with fidelity and that the sales made by them are allowed to be good sales—

3dly. That part of this land was in dispute for which ejectments were brought, this necessarily caused the attendance of the commissioners at court to carry on said suits which appear to have terminated favorable to the Indian claimants—

4thly. That your committee are satisfied that the commissioners must have devoted much time to this business, first in running out said land and dividing the same in lots not exceeding 100 acres each—advertising and making sales of which, at different times—removing said Indians and their effects the distance of 400 miles, building houses, purchasing farming utensils and supplying them with common necessities of food and raiment—and also two of the said commissioners through necessity to go to New-Stockbridge the second time—collecting the money at different times from the respective purchasers, and paying the same by a large number of different payments, all of which will appear by the annexed account current in this report—

Your committee further report that on examination of the sales of land and the interest accrued to this time amounts to 13400 dollars, out of which they have expended for the benefit and use of said Indians as by the account and receipts herein included the sum of $8473,40, and there also appears to be debts still due and owing to sundry people from the said Indians as appears by a settlement made before the court of common pleas for the county of Burlington in May term 1803, amounting to 260 dollars, which sum being added to the before mentioned expenditures makes $8733,40, which sum being deducted from the amount of sales, leaves a balance in the hands of commissioners of $4666,60 including their commissions—

The committee therefore upon taking the whole of this transaction into consideration are of opinion that twelve per cent be allowed to said commissioners for their services on all money by them received—

By order of the Committee,

WM. IRICK.

Coxe, and Parker.

Mr Van Duyn from the committee to whom were referred the resolutions of the legislatures of Pennsylvania, Kentucky and Georgia, proposing such amendments to the constitution of the United States, as would prevent the extension of the judiciary power " to controversies between citizens of different states, to controversies between citizens of the same state claiming lands under grants from different states, and to controversies between citizens of a state and citizens of a foreign state," having seriously considered the objects of those resolutions, reported,

That the constitution having provided that citizens of each state shall be entitled to all the privileges and immunities of citizens in the several states, that to secure this inestimable provision from evasion it appears necessary that its construction be committed to tribunals the least likely to be biassed by local interest or the least influenced by local attachments.

In all controversies wherein citizens or subjects of foreign nations may be concerned, and which a denial or perversion of justice may by the laws of nations be deemed a just cause of war, it follows as a natural consequence that the decision can only be confided with safety to those tribunals which are responsible to the people by impeachment by their reprerepresentatives in congress for any such denial or perversion by which the peace of the United States may be endangered.

It is reasonable to believe that the uniformity of decisions in the federal courts will be far more likely to preserve tranquility in our foreign relations than the contrary and jarring opinions of state judiciaries however respectable. From such uniformity the citizens of the several states may confidently expect the most perfect security to their property; an advantage which will amply compensate for the inconveniencies which may be sustained by any particular state.

From these considerations and the danger to be apprehended from frequent changes of the constitution, which in the opinion of the committee can only be justified by the most evident and urgent necessity, they deem it inexpedient to assent to the proposed amendment, and submit the following resolution.

Resolved, That the governor be requested to write to the executives of each state in the Union and inform them of the determination of the legislature of this state on the subject of the proposed amendment.

Which report was read and agreed to by the house.

Which report was read and agreed to by the house.

Mr Westcott, from the committee to whom was referred the bill entitled An act to enforce the collection of arrearages of taxes due from the counties of Sussex and Monmouth with instructions to report to the house a statement of facts respecting the same, report,

That on examination of the treasurer's books it appears that the principal of the sum for which judgment was obtained by the state treasurer against John Armstrong late collector of the county of Sussex, in the Supreme court at February term 1802, has been fully discharged since the report of the bill which has been referred to your committee—and that the further sum of $ 981 92, has also been paid since that time into the treasury by Mr. Armstrong on account of the arrearages of taxes due by the county of Sussex to the state, leaves the balance of arrearages now due the state from the county of Sussex, as appears by the treasurer's books, to be $ 2895 17. These arrearages have arisen from the non payment of taxes due January 1, 1783, January 1, 1784, and December 1, 1785.

It also appears that February 22, 1800 a bill in chancery was filed by Kenneth Hankinson against the board of chosen freeholders of the county of Monmouth and James Mott late treasurer of the state of New-Jersey, which bill was dismissed with costs, Sept 16, 1801—but that neither the bill answers or any other papers relating to the cause can, on the most careful examination be found on the files.

2. That the executor named in the will, died without having executed the same.

3. That Mary Connelly one of the heirs of John Connelly after the death of the wife of the testator, conveyed to John Ffirth, by deed bearing date, Sept. 6, 1805, one equal undivided ninth part of the above land, being the share to which she was entitled by the will which she was in possession at the time of the conveyance.

4. That the court of Common Pleas of the county of Gloucester, on the 18th, March 1806, on application of the said John Ffirth, did appoint commissioners to divide the said tract, and allot by ballot the share to which each legatee respectively was entitled, agreeably to the act, entitled "An act for the more easy partition of lands held by coparceners, joint tenants and tenants in common."

6. That the said John Ffirth alleges he has made valuable improvements on the part allotted him, and that he apprehends considerable damage must accrue to him for which he can have no redress, if a sale should take place as directed in the act lately passed, appointing a trustee for the sale of the lands referred to.

Mr Condict from the committee to whom were referred the representation of the managers of the Newark-turnpike company with sundry other papers relative to the concerns of said company, report, That the deviation of this road from the streets and squares of the town of Horsimus is not only conducive to the interests of said company, but is also an accommodation to the traveller, as it shortens the distance very considerably and affords much better ground whereon to make the road.—We are therefore unanimously of opinion that said turnpike road should be established.—Your committee further report, That as no inconvenience can result to the public or any individual from paying toll for said road at the Hackensack bridge, the turnpike company ought to be entitled to receive it there provided the toll exacted be in proportion to the distance travelled thereon. The committee further report, That notwithstanding the accommodation of foot passengers, is such as might reasonably at first have required the payment of toll from them, yet as no injury is done by them to said road, and more especially as any addition made to the toll now authorized by law would be establishing a precedent which this house cannot admit, that part of their request ought not to be complied with.—The committee further report, That in their opinion no further provision can be introduced regulating the passage of persons through the gates who may own land adjacent, or near to said road, which may not be liable to misconstruction or abuse in some way, and that further legislative interference on that subject would be improper.

Which report was read and ordered a second reading.

That a bell has been procured and hung, the workmanship of which appears to be well executed, and which is as large as the limits prescribed by the law would allow, weight 381 lbs.

That the various expences incurred in effecting these objects, having employed all the money appropriated, and indeed rather exceeded the appropriation, they have not thought it their duty to procure a carpet for the supreme court-room, as mentioned in the law.

That the accounts of your commissioners, and the vouchers respecting the same, are in readiness for the examination of the house or a committee of their body.

Three o'clock afternoon.... The house met.

Mr Stryker from the committee to whom was referred the subject of arrearages said to be due to the state of New-Jersey from the county of Monmouth, Reported,

That in October 1783 and first of January 1784, a deficiency of £ 2930 became evident on the books of the continental receiver against the said county of Monmouth, That by an act of the legislature passed 28th November 1789, the treasurer of this state was authorized to charge the said county with the said balance or deficiency and proceed to recover the same. That this act was immediately complied with so far as to make the county of Monmouth debtor for the above sum on the books of the treasury.

That Kenneth Hankinson esq. was appointed county collector in 1778 and continued to 1786 and no longer.

That on an examination of the records of the supreme court, we find in April term 1792 an action was instituted by James Mott, esq. then treasurer of the state of New-Jersey against said Kenneth Hankinson as late collector of said county of Monmouth for £13,114. 16. 0. which came to trial at the bar of said court in May term 1802, when a verdict was rendered for the defendant with six cents. That on the 3d June 1793, 11th February 1794, 12th May and on the 26th December of the same year, divers sums were paid by said county of Monmouth and credited on the books of the treasury reducing the balance or deficiency to $6836,34 cents, without taking any interest into the account—which balance or deficiency has been carried forward against the said county on the said books of the treasury from year to year until the present time.

That on the 10th February 1797 on the express application of the said Kenneth Hankinson, and with the approbation of the board of chosen freeholders of said county of Monmouth, an act of the legislature was passed authorizing a trial by reference between said Kenneth Hankinson and the said county of Monmouth, the reference was proceeded in and report made thereon in favor of the said Kenneth Hankinson for £550. 14. 2. which appears to have been fully paid to the said Kenneth Hankinson. But this act of the legislature does not appear to have involved any interest of the state.

That on the 22d February 1800, a bill in the court of chancery was filed by the said Kenneth Hankinson against the board of chosen freeholders of the said county of Monmouth, and James Mott then late treasurer of the state as joint defendants, which bill appears to have been dismissed. This suit also appears not to have had any bearing on the matter submitted to your committee. The last fact is noticed only because it is indirectly before the house in the report of a former committee on this subject.

Your committee after maturely considering the above facts, report the bill committed to them without amendment.

Which report was read and ordered a second reading with the bill on Friday next; and meantime the report and bill to be printed for the use of the members.

ished in the Trenton Federalist, dated August 24th last, in which advertisement no mention is made of a draw bridge to be built over said creek : therefore we are of opinion that it would not be expedient to pass a law at this time for that purpose ;

Mr W. Coxe, from the committee to whom was referred the bill authorizing the governor to sell the shares of stock owned by the state in the turnpike road from the Hudson river to the bridge over Hackensack river, and for appropriating the monies arising therefrom, Reported,

That the greater part of the income of the company having been appropriated towards completing the road; the original value of the shares has been increased by the accumulation of interest beyond the dividends received—that the present income of the company is stated by their treasurer not to exceed five and a quarter per cent—that no sales having been recently made, it is not in the power of the committee to report any price at which the shares might probably be sold. The probability in the opinion of the committee, is, that it would not exceed the original value of the shares, which would produce a loss of the interest on the advance made by the state—that the publicity of the road and the progressive improvement of the adjacent country induce a belief that the interest will eventually prove a productive one; your committee are therefore of opinion that it would be inexpedient at present to authorize a sale of the shares belonging to the state.

Mr Whitehead, from the committee on that subject, reported the following general statement of facts in support of the petition of Jabez Parkhurst,

1st. That an act was passed by the Legislature of New-Jersey on the 8th day of October 1778, requiring each and every person holding an office in whom the trust thereof is reposed and which related to a county only, to reside in such county, and to execute the duties thereof himself and not by deputy.

2nd. That on the 17th day of March 1795 an act was passed by the said legislature, by the first section whereof it is enacted as follows, That every person holding a civil commission or an appointment to an office within this state and under the authority thereof and such hereafter be elected a member to represent this state in the senate or house of representatives in the congress of the United States, and shall accept of the appointment, or take his seat agreeably thereto, the commission or appointment of such person under the authority of this state, within the same shall be and the same is hereby declared to be vacated and void.

3d. That on the 17th Nov. 1800, an act was passed so far repealing the above recited section that any person holding an office or appointment under this state to which no affixed salary was annexed might accept of a seat in congress without forfeiting his office under this state.

4th. That soon after the passing of the last mentioned act Aaron Ogden, esq. then clerk of Essex county, was appointed by the same legislature a member to represent this state in the senate of the United States, and thereupon took his seat in the said senate.

5th. That on the same 17th day of November 1800 the said legislature passed another act requiring the clerks of the respective counties to remove to a fire proof office all the books, records and papers appertaining to the office of the respective clerk, as soon as such office shall be finished and compleated and situated within half a mile of the court house of said county.

6th. That on the first day of December 1801, an act in the words following was passed by the legislature of New-Jersey aforesaid, Sec. 1. BE IT ENACTED by the council and general assembly of this state, and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same, That the act entitled an act partially to repeal part of an act therein named passed the 17th day of November in the year of our Lord eighteen hundred, be, and the same is hereby repealed.

Sec. 2. And be it enacted, That in every case where any person or persons holding a commission or appointment to any civil office under the authority of this state, and who hath been elected a member to represent this state either in the senate or house of representatives of the United States since the passing of the act entitled "an act to prevent the holding of appointments and commissions in certain cases under this state and the United States at the same time passed the seventeenth day of March, in the year of our Lord seventeen hundred and ninety-five, and who hath taken his seat or accepted of such appointment under the general government—the commission or appointment of such person or persons under the authority of this state, shall be considered as vacated unless he or they shall within twenty days after the passing of this act, notify in writing the governor of this state of the resignation of his or their seat or appointment as a member of the senate or house of representatives in the congress of the United States.

7th. That the said Aaron Ogden, esq. not only neglected to notify the governor of the resignation of his office as senator within the term limited in the above recited law, but absolutely insisted on holding both the office under this state and under the United States at the same time, contrary to the express prohibition of said act.

8th. That on the 23d day of December 1801, the governor issued a special commission under the great seal of the state to Jabez Parkhurst appointing him clerk of the court of common pleas and general quarter sessions of the peace in the room of the said Aaron Ogden disqualified by law: and that the said Jabez Parkhurst thereupon took the oath of office required by law to execute the duties of the same.

9th. That the said Jabez Parkhurst demanded before witnesses possession of the books and papers belonging to the said office of Wm Chetwood, esq. who then held the same under the said Aaron Ogden, esq. and had for a number of years previous thereto performed most of the duties of the said office—but was refused the possession by the said Wm. Chetwood and afterwards by the said Aaron Ogden, esq. in a letter from him to the said William Chetwood—the said Aaron Ogden being then at the city of Washington attending the senate of the United States as a member.

10th. That in the court of common pleas and general quarter sessions of the peace for the county of Essex of the term of January 1802, the said Jabez Parkhurst was opposed in the execution of the duties of his said office by the said Aaron Ogden who had left the senate while in session, and appearing then and there in court demanded the right of exercising said office of clerk—by which said Parkhurst was compelled to employ counsel to defend the same or forfeit the confidence of the constituted authority of the state under which he had been commissioned.

11th. That after considerable altercation and argument before the said court of common pleas, the judges of the said court refused to determine who should be considered by them as the legal clerk of said county, thereupon the said Aaron Ogden laid the seal of the court upon the table, in open court, and informed the said Parkhurst, that there was the seal of the court, and that if the said Parkhurst chose to take up the same he might do it; but at his peril.—That thereupon the seal and papers then in the court, was taken possession of by the said Parkhurst without any further opposition from the said Aaron Ogden who agreed to deliver and did deliver by Mr Chetwood to the said Parkhurst the remainder of the papers and books appertaining to the said office.

12. That the said Parkhurst remained in quiet and peaceable possession of the said office for about one month, when the attorney-general Aaron D. Woodruff, esq. made a complaint against said Parkhurst at the relation of Aaron Ogden, esq. aforesaid, and obtained the following rule.

" At a supreme court of judicature of the state of New Jersey holden at Trenton, of the term of February, Anno Domini 1802.

The State of New-Jersey, }
 vs. }
Jabez Parkhurst, Esq. }

On application of the attorney general for a rule to shew cause on the first day of the next term, why an information in the nature of quo warranto should not be exhibited against the said Jabez Parkhurst, for usurping, intruding into and unlawfully holding and executing the office of clerk of the court of general quarter sessions of the peace and inferior court of common pleas for the county of Essex at the relation of Aaron Ogden, esq.

Ordered by the court that the above defendant Jabez Parkhurst, esq. do shew cause on the first day of the next term, why the information should not be exhibited accordingly at the relation of the said Aaron Ogden, esq. on motion of the attorney general.

The foregoing is a true copy from the minutes of the supreme court.

(Signed,)

J. RHEA, clk.

13th. That the said Jabez Parkhurst on the above copy of the rule being served on him, employed counsel and defended the suit as far as was in his power from time to time for about two years before the supreme court. The information in the nature of Quo Warranto having been issued in May term 1802, in the words following, viz.

New-Jersey supreme court of the term of May, in the year of our Lord eighteen hundred and two.

HUNTERDON, ss.

Be it remembered that Aaron Dickinson Woodruff, attorney general of the state of New-Jersey, who for the said state prosecutes, comes here into the supreme court of judicature of the said state at the city of Trenton in this same term in his own proper person and for the said state and at the relation of Aaron Ogden, esq. relator, desiring to sue and prosecute in his behalf—giveth the court here to understand and be informed that Jabez Parkhurst late of the township of Newark in the county of Essex and state of New-Jersey for the space of four months now last past, and more hath used and enjoyed and as yet doth use and enjoy, and claim to have use and enjoy within the county of Essex in the state aforesaid, without any warrant or lawful authority for that purpose the offices following, that is to say, the office of clerk of the inferior court of common pleas for the said county of Essex, and the office of clerk of the general quarter sessions of the peace for the said county of Essex, and also to have and to take to his own proper use the profits, emoluments and fees to the said offices of clerk of the inferior court of common pleas and of clerk of the general quarter sessions of the peace for the said county of Essex belonging and appertaining, all and singular which offices aforesaid the said Jabez Parkhurst for the whole term aforesaid upon the state of New-Jersey aforesaid hath usurped, intruded into and unlawfully held and executed within the county of Essex and state of New-Jersey aforesaid, and as yet doth usurp, intrude into and unlawfully hold and execute in contempt of the said state, and the laws thereof, and against the peace of this state, the government and dignity of the same. Wherefore the attorney general of the state of New-Jersey for the said state at the relation of the said Aaron Ogden desiring to sue and prosecute in this behalf, prayeth the advisement of the court here in the premises and due process of law against him the said Jabez Parkhurst in this behalf to be made to answer to the said state by what warrant and authority he claim to have, use and enjoy the said offices aforesaid.

(Signed.)

A. D. WOODRUFF, Att'y. Gen'l.

14th. That in May term 1804 the cause was heard by the supreme court—two of the justices of the said supreme court being of opinion that the said action could be sustained, while the chief justice was clearly of opinion that no action could lie against said Parkhurst for having accepted said commission and executed the duties of said offices under said law.

The court being thus divided in opinion and a majority being favorable to the prosecution; judgment was entered against the said Jabez Parkhurst in the following words, viz.

New-Jersey supreme court of May term, 1804.

The State,	}	On demurrer.
vs.
Jabez Parkhurst,

The court having heard the arguments of counsel and taken time to advise thereon, do Order and adjudge on motion of Aaron Dickinson Woodruff, attorney general for the said state, who for the said state in this behalf prosecutes at the relation of Aaron Ogden, esq. that the said Jabez Parkhurst is guilty of the usurpation aforesaid in the information aforesaid specified, and do further Order that the same offices be seized into the hands of the said state, that the said Jabez be removed and expelled therefrom and from the using, holding and occupying thereof, do from henceforth cease, and that the said Jabez Parkhurst do pay a fine to the said state of six cents for his said usurpation aforesaid, and that he defray to the said Aaron Ogden, esq. the relator aforesaid the costs of the above prosecution.

15th. That after the above judgment was entered the cause was removed by a writ of error before the governor and council and the above judgment of the supreme court was reversed by the unanimous voice of the court of errors; but the costs of defending said prosecution fell upon the said Jabez Parkhurst who has been obliged to pay the sum of two hundred and fifty dollars and sixteen cents costs and attorneys fees, exclusive of all other expences and troubles, as by his vouchers herewith exhibited will more fully appear.

16. That the order of the court of errors was made in May 1805, in the words following, viz.

THURSDAY, May 23, 1806.

The court met—present as yesterday.

Jabez Parkhurst, }
 vs. }
The State. } In Error on Quo Warranto.

The court of Appeals and of Errors of the state of New-Jersey, having heard the record and proceedings and matters for errors assigned in this cause, and having duly considered the premises, Do Order that the judgment of the supreme court of judicature of the said state for the said errors and others in the record and proceedings aforesaid be reversed, annulled and held entirely as void, &c.

I certify the foregoing to be a true copy from the minutes.

(Signed.)

JAMES LINN, clerk.

Nov. 26, 1807.

Additional Facts.

1st. That the act first referred to in the foregoing statement is yet a standing law of the state, was so at the time said Aaron Ogden accepted his appointment of senator, and has never been repealed.

2nd. That at the time of the refusal and opposition made by the said Aaron Ogden against the said Parkhurst, and afterwards, said Parkhurst was performing the duty of clerk of said county, as far as in his power, in the fire-proof building erected within one hundred yards of the county court house in Newark, while the said Aaron Ogden retained the books and papers of the office in Elizabeth-Town at the distance of six miles from the said court-house and fire-proof building erected and finished for said county clerk's office of which said Parkhurst had obtained peaceable possession by a delivery of the key of the same.

Mr Whitehead, from the committee appointed to examine and report the amount of money in the treasury arising from military fines and penalties, reported,

That it appears by the late treasurer's books, that prior to the robbery committed in the year 1803, there was in the treasury,	Arising from the ordinary funds,	$ 33,364 35

	from military fines, &c.	12,111 71

Making an aggregate of	45,476 06
Robbed from the treasury,	10,914 08

Leaving the sum of	34,561 98

Which sum the present treasurer received in gross ; and as those funds have ever since been thus blended, the treasurer has not thought himself authorized to pay over any part of them for the purchase of arms.

Your committee are of the opinion that the military fund in the treasury at the time of the robbery, ought to bear its proportion of the loss sustained thereby, which will reduce it to $ 9205 14, which sum, together with the military fines, forfeitures and exemptions since paid into the treasury, they conceive the board of general officers fully authorized by the 15th section of the militia law passed 27th Nov. 1806, to apply to the purchase of muskets and bayonets.

The Address as thus agreed to, was in the following words :

TO THOMAS JEFFERSON,

PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES.

Sir,

The representatives of the people of New-Jersey in legislature convened, animated with sentiments of attachment and esteem for the general government, conceive it their duty at this eventful moment, to express their confidence and approbation of those who have so ably directed its councils, amidst the storms which agitate and convulse the civilized world.

We have to lament, that the faithful pursuit of a dignified neutrality has proved inadequate to secure us from the insults and injuries of those nations, whose true interests would be best promoted by cultivating a good understanding with us.

The experience of other nations as well as our own, has long since convinced us, that the rights of a neutral nation present but a feeble barrier to British madness and ambition. That nation which openly avows to the world, that "she can no longer distinguish between neutrals and enemies," becomes professedly and intentionally the open and avowed enemy of every nation at peace.—This language, tho' addressed to the Danes, speaks with equal solemnity to us, in the prophetic voice of warning, "be ye also ready."—The forbearance which is dictated by policy and humanity has its limits. When the voice of justice is disregarded—when injuries instead of being redressed, are aggravated by new wrongs—when our peaceful citizens are murdered in our harbors and on our coasts—when a dishonorable submission to habitual wrongs, or an appeal to the unprofitable but decisive arbitrament of the sword, is arrogantly prescribed as the only alternative; every honorable sentiment which renders the name of freemen dear to our hearts, forbids us to pause in such a choice. Our citizens with an unanimity before unknown, are ready to obey the first summons of their country. Their hearts are already consecrated to its service, and their lives and fortunes will be offered on the altar of its independence. But the confidence which we feel in the government of our country, forbids us not only to anticipate, but induces us to repose with full reliance, on the wisdom which may direct its final determination.

Adverting to our domestic concerns, we are happy to observe so many causes for mutual felicitation. The defeat of a dangerous conspiracy, menacing for a time our peace and unity is not among the least. That a conspiracy so extensive, so organized, should be defeated by the arm of the civil authority, without shedding a drop of blood, is a phenomenon in the history of conspiracies:—and the universal detestation of its authors, abettors and voluntary defenders, is a happy demonstration of the attachment of the people, both to the principles of our government, and the persons whom they have chosen to administer it.

We derive much satisfaction also from a review of the flourishing state of our finances. That an enormous debt, threatening to crush by its cumbrous weight the growing energies of our country, should be suddenly arrested and reduced in the compass of a few years, to an amount comparatively small, with the fairest prospects of its utter extinction—is a fact, which has scarcely a parallel in the history of finance, and can be explained only by that patriotic system of economy, which has formed so distinguished a feature of the administration.

Before we conclude this address, permit us to take notice of a subject in which we feel particularly interested. We allude to your supposed intention of declining the service of your country as chief magistrate at the approaching election. We should sincerely regret such a determination. However laudable may be the example, of declining the highest honors of the state, however inviting may be the charms of retirement to a mind borne down by concerns of the first magnitude—we trust, the best interests of your country will yet guide your determination. The nation have a claim to the services of their most enlightened and experienced statesmen. We hope that private considerations will yield to the public good; and that the best interests of the state may not be hazarded by a conflict of rival pretensions at this eventful moment.

With warmest wishes for the peace and prosperity of our beloved country, and the promotion of your individual happiness, we bid you adieu.
